

Study Island

A great way all students can review skills at home this summer in both reading and math is to use the program on the internet called Study Island. Students should practice one or two grade levels ahead.

1. Go to studyisland.com
2. At the upper- left of the screen, enter your username@c and password (capital C followed by your lunch pin number-no space in between) and click "Login".
3. Note: The user name is the network userID@c. User ID's are the first 6 letters of the last name, followed by the first 2 letters of the first name. Your password is C followed by your lunchroom pin#.

Example: student 'Fred Edwards' SI username would be edwardfr@c and his password would be C1650.

Review your skills and have fun!

Step 1: Click on the pretest and complete.

Step 2: Next, click on the word lesson (this word is listed behind each skill title) Read over the lesson. Then, X out of it when finished.

Step 3: Click on the title of the skill to take the test. It will show a blue ribbon if the student passed the skill and a red triangle if this skill needs further review.

Step 4: Repeat this process with as many skill tests as you can. It is easiest to go in order.

Have fun! Mrs. Engels
